I'd rather have a nail driven through my temple, slowly, than screw around with this on my birthday(!). Rich, please call me Tuesday. Lee

Rich,

That schedule can work for me if it works for Lee. Take care.

Mark

Hi Lee and Mark,

Thanks for your messages. I'm happy to work around your schedules, of course.

The N.D. Cal. motion hearings for January are on Mondays, unfortunately. Will January 26th work?

If so, in light of the holidays, how about December 23rd for your opposition (giving you an extra week and a half), and January 12th for our opposition (giving us a bit more than an extra week, excluding Christmas and New Year's)?

Please let me know.

Rich, traveling on the weekend after New Years is pretty hairy, and I have a family commitment that weekend, probably Sunday. (My mother's birthday is Monday, January 5.) I don't really like the next week due to other commitments in other cases and I now see Parnes has a problem. I am going to be out there on 1/23 anyway (a later date that I worked out with Tom Walsh due to his schedule); any chance of matching up with that?

Dear Lee & Don,

I write regarding Yahoo!'s September 17, 2008 subpoena on Wilson Sonsini. I understand from Francis Ho at our firm that Wilson Sonsini has declined to produce any documents at the direction of SRA's counsel, which has indicated that it also represents Site Technologies/Deltapoint.

Yahoo! intends to file a motion to compel later this week with a noticed hearing date of January 5th. I recognize that the holidays are rapidly approaching, though, and would like to avoid causing any of the parties any unnecessary inconvenience during the holiday season. Please let me know if that hearing date will not work for you so that we can agree to a different hearing date and, if necessary, an adjusted briefing schedule. If we have not heard from you by Wednesday morning, we will assume that January 5th is fine.

Regards,

Rich Hung
